

Week in Review Newsletter In the City of Temple Terrace

Good things going on in the City

Jan. 4 –10, 2022

LET IT SNOW

Thank goodness that the snow in the Temple Terrace Public Library isn't causing the problems they are having up north. Because we live in Florida, you can throw on a pair of shorts and head over to the library to get a look at the entries in the snowflake craft contest before they melt away - or get picked up by the artists. Congrats to all the winners!

TELL YOUR STORY

StoryCorps, in partnership WUSF Public Media, will be our area now through Feb. 12 and is seeking conversation partners to tell their stories about Tampa Bay - which includes Temple Terrace! StoryCorps is a national effort backed by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, NPR and the National Endowment for the Arts, among other organizations, to collect, share and preserve people's stories.

Information and reservations for both in person (at the USF Center for Advanced Medical Learning & Simulation in Tampa) and virtual recordings still are available and can be made at <https://storycorps.org/stops/mobile-stop-tampa-bay-fl/>. If you have Temple Terrace tales to tell, sign up and ensure that our City is included in the Tampa Bay story!

NEW VICE MAYOR CHOSEN

Congrats to Council Member Gill Schisler on being chosen by his peers to serve the City as Vice Mayor at the Jan. 4 City Council meeting.

LUNCH ON US

Mission BBQ gifted the Temple Terrace Police Department with a delicious lunch last Friday. The recognition was both well-deserved and well timed, given that yesterday was Law Enforcement Appreciation Day.

MASKS REQUIRED

A reminder that face coverings once again are required for staff and visitors to all City facilities, including City Hall, Omar K. Lightfoot Center, the Temple Terrace Public Library and the Family Recreation Complex.

As cases of COVID, especially the Omicron variant, are on the rise both nationally and in the City, this measure was deemed necessary to keep both City employees and residents safe from infection. Masks will be provided to those who present without one. Frequent hand washing and social distancing also are encouraged. If you are feeling sick, please stay home!

Historical Highlights

In this Burgert Brothers photo from July 1925, the home of former secretary and treasurer of Temple Terrace Inc. Charles Dickson can be seen behind the groves of our namesake Temple orange on the left. And check out the two model Ts on Temple Terrace Highway.

ATTACHMENTS:

- Employment Opportunities

The Week in Review is published by the Office of the City Manager Charles W. Stephenson
Prepared by Laurie L. Hayes, Marketing & Communications Officer
City of Temple Terrace • 11250 North 56th Street • Temple Terrace, FL 33617