TEMPLE TERRACE TO CELEBRATE NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK

TEMPLE TERRACE, FL. – (4/1/10) – The Temple Terrace Public Library will join libraries across the country in celebrating the 52nd anniversary of National Library Week (April 11-17, 2010).

First sponsored in 1958, National Library Week is observed each April to celebrate the contributions of libraries and librarians, while promoting and encouraging library use. The event is sponsored by the American Library Association in cooperation with libraries across the country.

In commemoration of National Library Week, Temple Terrace will host a Library Open House on Friday, April 16 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. The library is at 202 Bullard Parkway, Temple Terrace.

There will be displays and posters celebrating the many programs offered at the library, along with information about participating partners, such as the Garden Club, the Book Club, the City's Leisure Services Department, and others.

There will be a special display highlighting the library's history, expansion and renovation over the years. Area dignitaries have been invited, along with former library staff, friends, donors and all the people who make the Temple Terrace Public Library special. Light refreshments will be served.

Additionally, the Temple Terrace City Council will issue a proclamation April 6, 2010 thanking library workers and encouraging everyone in the community to visit our library and take advantage of its many resources.

Join us as we celebrate our own Temple Terrace Public Library.

For more information about National Library Week or upcoming activities at the Temple Terrace Public Library, please call the library at (813) 506-6770.
