VETERAN OFFICER SEELEY NAMED DEPUTY CHIEF

(TEMPLE TERRACE, FL – 12/2/10) – Veteran police officer Bernard J. Seeley has been promoted to Deputy Chief of the Temple Terrace Police Department, it was announced this week.

Seeley, 45, was sworn in Nov. 30 during a ceremony at Temple Terrace City Hall, where Temple Terrace Police Chief Kenneth Albano made the announcement.

Seeley has served with the Temple Terrace Police Department since November, 1994. Most recently, as a lieutenant, he was commander of the department's Investigative Services Division, which includes the Detective Unit, Special Enforcement Unit, and Special Operations.

Seeley also has served as a member of the department's Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) team since 1999. He was assigned SWAT team leader in 2005.

In 2007, Seeley was named commander of the Special Operations Unit, responsible for the overall supervision of the SWAT and Crisis Response teams.

Seeley served in the U.S. Marine Corp. from 1984-1988, where he was a Military Police officer assigned to the Presidential Support Unit. In that capacity, he provided security for the president's helicopter, Marine One, as well as the Presidential Alert Facility in Washington, D.C.

Seeley and his wife, Kelly, are the parents of three boys: Mitchell, Keegan and Reagan.

Seeley replaces former deputy chief Patricia Powers, who retired in October.
